Woody Allen

-Sherry wants to create a site that is pretty similar in composition to Woody Allen's website (central element is focus of homepage which gradually switches through different pictures of Woody Allen and his films. However she wants the overall color scheme of the site to be more unified than that of Woody's

-She wants to maintain a tab bar (either at the top or bottom of screen) with 4 categories: 'Filmography', 'Theater/Music', 'Biography', 'News'.

-The compositions will for these tabs will be pretty simple (probably just a picture and text)

-Besides that Sherry wants everything to have nice transitions and just an overall sleek and pleasant UI/UX
